HUMOROUS ITEMS.

A Lewiston man says that if ever he builds a house he will have folding doors—"they're so handy in case of a funeral!"

Dinner for nothing is very good fun: but you can't say as much of nothing for dinner.

Depredations on the males—searching husbands' pockets while they are sleeping.

A pedant remarked to a farmer,
 "I cannot hear a fool." Your mother could," was the reply.

A handsome young lady being asked if she ever gave a kiss, replied, "No; but I have often had one stolen."

A New Zealand chief maintained that he had a good title to his land, because he had eaten its former owner.

Some one called Richard Steele the "vilest of mankind." He retorted with proud humility, "It would be a glorious world if I were."

A lodging-house keeper advertises to furnish "gentlemen with pleasant and comfortable rooms, also one or two gentlemen with wives."

A London merchant advertised for a clerk who could "bear confinement" He received an answer from one who had been seven years in jail.

A friend of ours was congratulating himself upon having recently taken a very pleasant trip. Upon inquiry, we found that he had tripped and fell into a young lady's lap.

The captain of a privateer, who had been in an engagement, wrote to his owners that he had received but little damage, having only one of his hands wounded in the nose.

Horace Walpole tells a story of a Lord Mayor of London in his time, who, having heard that a friend had the smallpox twice, and died of it, asked if he died the first time or the second.

An Alabama editor, in puffing a grocery kept by a woman, says—"Her tomatoes are red as her own cheeks; her indigo as blue as her own eyes; and her pepper as hot as her own temper."

Lady Beaulieu was complaining of being awoken by a noise in the night; her lord (an Irishman) replied, "Oh, for my part, there's no disturbing me; if they don't wake me before I go to sleep, there's no waking me afterwards."

A Teutonic philosopher was saluted by one of his friends. "How are you, Toot?" the philosopher stopped, posed his stick on the pavement, and replied: "Well' wat's the use of gomplainiu'? Ven I complain, beepie tink I wants to porrow monish; ven I don't complain, they tink I have monish to lend."

A promising young shaver of five or six years was reading his lesson at school one day, in the deliberate manner for which urchins of that age are so-what remarkable. As he proceeded with his task he came upon the passage, "Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from guile." Master Hopeful drawled out, "Keep—thy—tongue—from—evil —and—thy—lips—from—girls."

A CAPE COD ROMANCE.
 Two lovers stood upon the shore,
 Of Massachusetts Bay
 Bidding a sad farewell before Seth tore himself away.

"I'll marry you when I come back, My Sally Ann," says he
 And then he took a little smack,
 And went away to sea.

Capt. Jones was a great traveler, and fond of telling large stories, some of which being doubted he proved by making his affidavit of their truth.
 When he died, the following epitaph, was inscribed on his tombstone:

"Tread softly mortals o'er the bones
 Of the world's wonder, Captain Jones; Who told his glorious deeds to many,
 But never was believed by any.
 Posterity let this suffice:
 He swore all's true, yet here he lies."

A young lawyer obtained a divorce for a pretty and wealthy client. He sent in a bill for $1,000. The next day the lady called on him, and inquired if he was in earnest in proposing to her.
 "Propose to you, Madam! I didn't propose to you," replied the astonished attorney. "Well you asked for my fortune, and I thought you would have the grace to take me with it," was the calm reply.
 The lawyer wilted.
